Scott, founding partner of PurAyr International Inc. based in Toronto, Canada is the distribution arm of PurAyr technology, focused on providing equipment, supplies and training to the property restoration industry across North America.

Prior to PurAyr, Scott owned and operated a successful restoration franchise in Ontario, where he became one of the youngest restoration company owners in Canada. Scott took an active role in overseeing the daily operations, estimating and project management of residential and commercial projects.

Scott is a highly motivated, solution-orientated and a proven IICRC certified restoration professional with a strong fifteen year track record in the property restoration industry. With all his experience and expertise, Scott's focus is to educate the insurance restoration industry on the benefits of utilizing advanced oxidation process (AOP) for permanent odour elimination and decontamination.
